TransMat® Rubber Friction Mat

Cargo movement during transportation can lead to product damage, inefficient loading, and costly claims. TransMat Rubber Friction Mats provide an alternative to wood blocking and bracing, eliminating exposed nails and related floor damage while helping reduce load movement and cushion heavy materials. Designed for rail, truck, container and intermodal transportation, TransMat Rubber Friction Mats help streamline loading and unloading while protecting cargo and transportation equipment.

Features and benefits

■ Industry compliant

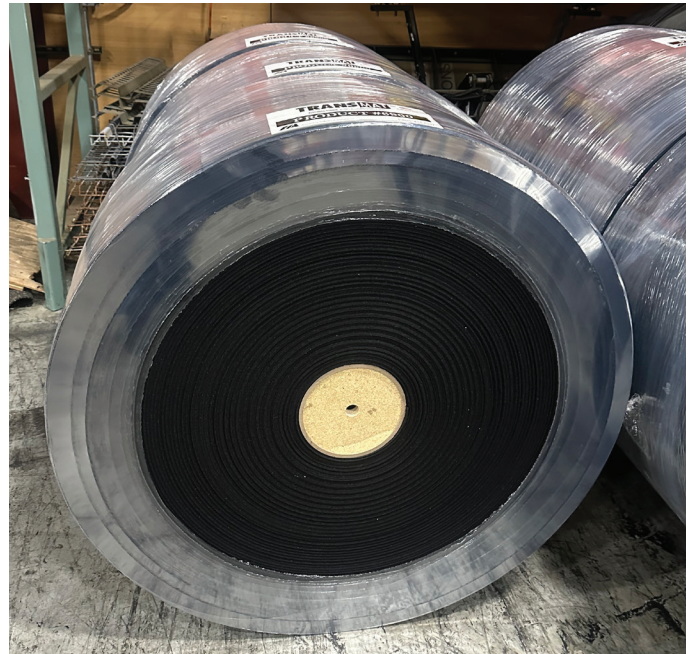

TransMat Rubber Friction Mats are verified for use by the Association of American Railroads and are recognized as a method of load securement by the FMCSA/DOT and CCMTA.

■ Highly durable

TransMat Rubber Friction Mats don't absorb or retain water, making them ideal for securing a variety of cargo across different transportation modes.

■ Sustainable

Manufactured from recycled tires and supported by the TRUcircularity® program.
